Stop that Interest. Daniel Webster once dined with an old Boston merchant, and when they came to the wine a dusty old bottle was carefully decanted by Peter and passed 25 to the bost. Taking the bottle he poured Mr. Webster's glass and handed it to him. Then pouring out another for himself, he held it to the light and said:

"How do you like it, Mr. Webster?" "I think it it very fine specim old Port." "Now you can't guess what that cost

"Surely not," said Mr. Webster. "I 2d pr to only know that it is excellent." "Well, now I can tell you, for I made a careful estimate the other day. When I add the interest to the first price, I find that it costs me the sum of just one dollar and twenty cents a glass!" "Good gracious! you don't say so?"
